To whom it may concern,

JAMCEM Consulting was engaged by Savannah Cement Limited as its technical advisor on its cement milling project in September of 2016.

JAMCEM worked with us in the selection of the grinding technology, assessment of the bids from different suppliers, evaluation of key parameters such as power consumption, maintenance costs and overall capital cost of the design.

JAMCEM also worked on the final technical negotiations with the selected supplier and more recently the review of the basic general arrangement drawings for the plant which is now being built.

We would highly recommend JAMCEM Consulting for similar work and for grinding plant projects in general.
